Homily

Today is the Feast of St. Andrew Kim Dae-Gon, St. Paul Jung Ha-Sang, and their fellow Korean martyrs. The feast, which falls on the 20th of September, is celebrated today to give it the solemnity of a Sunday. There are now 103 canonized Korean martyrs and 124 blessed Korean martyrs. They were all people who endured the era of persecution. The Korean Catholic Church was built on the blood of martyrs who served God. Serving God fully is to love people, and to do so, they stood against violence and oppression and witnessed to the truth and love of God through their deaths.

The faithful life in God means for us to live righteously. It is to live as true human beings. It is to stand against lies and oppression due to the sins and evil of the world. Thereby, it means for all people to live a life of love as brothers and sisters in God. It means to live as the children of God.

Our life of faith is not only faith in the blessings of the world. It is not about living long, enjoying everything, and having a comfortable life without caring about others' wounds. It is to find God together and to make the Word of God alive in us so that we can live as the children of God. Jesus went the way before of us. It is the way of salvation, the way to find God, and to get away from sin. This is our life of faith.

Those who seek God live a righteous life. Only those who preach and practice the word of God can live righteously. Those who seek God and what God calls righteous—instead of the powers, entitlement, and riches of the world—are righteous.

The faithful life pursues the life of a righteous one.

Jesus is the righteous One. Though he is killed by the world, he is united with God, who is Righteousness itself. He is the only begotten Son of God. The expression of a "begotten son" means one who accomplishes the righteousness of God. This does not mean a false religious leader who shows off, elevates, and satisfies his own greed. Jesus, who is totally united with God, is the only begotten Son of God.

The way of the only begotten Son of God is to sacrifice his own life to accomplish the will of God. It is to take up the cross and go the way of death so as to accomplish the righteousness of God. Besides this, there is no other way. Jesus totally serves God as the only begotten Son of God. Those who show off as religious leaders and try to accomplish their own will, but do not take the cross of death, are all, in a word, hypocrites and swindlers.

Martyrs are those who took up their crosses with Jesus. They are brothers and sisters of Jesus. Our faith life should contain this spirit of martyrdom. Without this spirit of martyrdom, a good life of faith is not possible. A life of serving God and loving people is a life of martyrdom.

Having this Parish Day today, we have to remember the spirit of martyrdom of St. Andrew Kim Dae-Gon, the first Korean priest and martyr, who is the patron of our parish. We must create a community that truly serves God and truly loves its neighbors. This is the true meaning of Parish Day. We sincerely ask for the spirit of martyrdom of St. Andrew Kim Dae-Gon and his fellow martyrs to lead us to cultivate a truly faithful life within us.

Liturgy Q&A

How to approach children at Mass especially children who are crying. (Fr. Doyle 3/3)

Babies should be at Mass. Children need to grow up in the Mass in the church. Why? Because they're soaking things up. Especially really young children are picking up language, visuals, and things all around. They're sponges and they're soaking it up. When we bring children to Mass, we are inviting them in a culture. We are showing them the symbols even if they don't understand it consciously, can't express it, they might not even be able to talk, but children surprise us all the time by what they retain. They will grow up, understand, and know nothing but the holy, because they've been surrounded by it. So, bring children to Mass. Some people might say, but they disturb my worship. They disturb my prayer time; you know that the rustling the jostling. The little noise is the cooing and the crying disturbs me, this is my prayer time and I'm here to encounter God. No, Mass is not your prayer time. If you want your personal prayer time, that's you and Jesus. Go to an adoration chapel. What is the Mass? The Mass is communal worship of the church. It's not yours to be unbothered. What the Mass is for everybody. Mass is for children, is for adults, for elderly, it's for families, it is a church gathering. That means everybody. When we baptize those children, they're now part of the church, and you say they can't come because it affects your prayer time that's on you. Within reason obviously, we can quiet people down and do our best to foster each other's prayer. But a loud squiggly squirmy smelly church, that's the reality, that is the church. That's our future. We need everybody because everyone is called to salvation. It's not sure just your prayer time. It's the worship of the church the one true God.
