Homily

Today is the 34th Sunday in Ordinary Time. Liturgically, it is the last Sunday of the year. The Church celebrates the last Sunday as "Solemnity of Christ our King of the whole world." Jesus is the king of kings. Jesus is entrusted with all the authority, power, and ability. Therefore those who belong to Jesus can enter into eternal life with Jesus. For the same reason those who are against Jesus must be punished eternally. Today is the Bible Week as well. The Bible witnesses Jesus the King of the world.

The Church teaches about the end of the world. Paul explains about it this way. The coming again of Jesus who resurrects by defeating death is the beginning of the end of the world. Those who belong to Jesus win over the world with Jesus. Jesus at last destroys all the authority, power, and ability and brings all the nations to God the Father. Hence God makes all succumb to His feet. Jesus His Son succumbed to Him. Therefore God becomes all in all and the end of the world is that God wins over everything.

The gospel today talks about the last judgment occurring at the end of the world. As a shepherd separates sheep from goats, righteous ones are separated from evil ones. Though we do not know who is righteous or not, the last judgment will very clearly separate them from each other. And the criteria are none other than whether we practice the love for the least among us. Those who feed and take care of the hungry and needy with loving care are the people are truly righteous, and the eternal life of God will be given to them.

The book of Ezekiel today explains this more specifically by giving example of shepherd taking care of his sheep. He decides who is right and who is vicious among the sheep, by doing so he rules sheep with righteousness. Therefore God takes care of ill and weak sheep but removes strong and domineering sheep. This is also the righteousness of God.

"Says the Lord GOD. The lost I will seek out, the strayed I will bring back, the injured I will bind up, the sick I will heal (but the sleek and the strong I will destroy), shepherding them rightly. As for you, my sheep, says the Lord GOD, I will judge between one sheep and another, between rams and goats." In our world, strong sheep molest and exploit weak sheep, however, God takes care of weak sheep. This is the righteousness of God. Those who practice this righteousness are the righteous people. They enter into the eternal kingdom of God at the end of time.

On the last day God wins, and God will resurrects Jesus. Those who participate in Jesus's resurrection can participate in God's victory. The day when Jesus comes to us again with the glory of resurrection is the beginning of the end of the world. Those who belong to Jesus will eventually enter into the glory of God. Those who are against Jesus will begin to face eternal damnation.

Before the end of the world, we have to ask to follow Jesus. We have to do our best to practice the righteousness of God with Jesus. We have to take good care of the ill sheep and the sheep in need. They are righteous belong to Jesus, and take part in the eternal life of God. "'Amen, I say to you, what you did not do for one of these least ones, you did not do for me.' And these will go off to eternal punishment, but the righteous to eternal life."

At the end of the world, God will be all in all. We have to ask to live wisely by serving God and not the world. We have to ask for the blessings of eternal life at the end of the world. We have to pray not to fall to eternal damnation at the end of the world. We have to ask to truly take after Jesus who is the King of the whole world. We have to ask to serve God truly with Jesus.

Liturgy Q&A
 Celebration of the Eucharist
 For every celebration of the Eucharist, a portion of the People of God is summoned to assemble under the authority of the diocesan Bishop, or of a Bishop or priest delegated by him, as part of the body of Christ and thus to fulfill the Lord's command to "do this in memory of me" (Lk 22:19). In this most sacred action of Christ and the Church, the memorial of his death and resurrection is celebrated; God is adored in spirit and in truth; the Church identifies herself with the saving sacrifice that her Lord perpetuates and, nourished by his Body and Blood, looks forward in joyful hope to sharing in the supper of the Lamb in the heavenly kingdom.
