Homily

Second Sunday of Lent

My dear parishioners,
When I lived in New York one day volunteers cleaned up the second-floor of my house without my knowledge. They rearranged the desks and beds in very economical and creative way it completely surprised and overwhelmed me. The air of the room was clean and fresh, and bed looked cozy. There are saying I like; "When you are in love what you see is different from what you used to see."

I like to share a story that was an article I read before. "My husband brought home a bouquet of roses for me on his way back from work. I was grateful for husband's warm loving heart. When I looked for a vase, there wasn't one, so I went to market and bought a pretty vase. When I tried to put it on the dining table, I found that the tablecloth was too old. So I went to the market and bought a tablecloth. Looking at the chairs, I found that they were too old. So I went to the market and bought chairs. Sitting on the chair and looking at the vase I was bothered by the curtain. So I went to the market and bought a curtain. Even after all the changes the vase, tablecloth, chairs, and curtain, the room looked messy and depressed. So I finally vacuumed and cleaned the room. When my husband came home from work, the house had completely makes over. The bouquet of roses moved the wife's heart, and the old and messy house became clean and bright. Yes, when the heart changes, so does life. Likewise I also plan to live in Dallas with a loving heart.

In today's first reading, we hear about the story of Abraham, who views the world with a loving heart. God told Abraham to leave his beloved homeland and relatives. Abraham left his comfort zone and familiarity and went to strange places. Because he believed that God would be with him. Abraham lived with his nephew Lot and their herds grew too large to stay together. So Abraham allowed Lot to choose settlement first. Lot chose the lush and fertile land and from the world's perspective giving the good land to his nephew might seem foolish. But we can see here Abraham's warm heart that thinks of his nephew first. Because of such warm and generous heart God bless Abraham with such a lot of blessing. Abraham warmly welcomed the strangers who came to his tent. God blessed Sarah, who was already old, to have a child because of Abraham's good heart. God told Abraham to sacrifice his son Isaac, whom he had at the age of 100. From the world's point of view, sacrificing a son obtained at the age of 100 might seems ridiculous and unreasonable. But Abraham obeyed God's wishes. God provided another offering, sacrificial ram instead of Isaac. Because Abraham answered calling of God and deals with his neighbor with a warm heart he became the ancestor of faith.

In today Gospel, we hear about the Transfiguration of Jesus. Jesus took Peter, James, and John with him and went up to the Mount of Transfiguration. There, Jesus met Moses and Elijah. Moses received the Ten Commandments from God and he symbolizes the Law. Elijah followed God's will and defeated false prophets and he symbolizes prophecy. From this story we summarize that Jesus fulfills the Law and the Prophets. When Jesus met Moses and Elijah face to face Jesus's face shine with holiness. His clothes also became white and beautiful. And a voice came from heaven, saying, "This is my Son, whom I love with him, I am well pleased." Peter suggested making each shelter for Jesus, Moses, and Elijah. From the world's perspective, preaching the Gospel, healing the sick, and driving out demons were not important work. But Jesus said to Peter, "The Son of Man must suffer many things and be rejected by the elders, the chief priests, and the teachers of the law, and he must be killed and on the third day be raised to life. The main theme of today's Gospel is that: It's not important for clothes to become beautiful any white. What's important is to live out the spirit of the Law and the Prophets. What's important is to love God with all our hearts and to love our neighbor with all our hearts. If we look at the world with such a heart, if we reveal such a heart in our lives, "We will all be transfigured into holiness. That will be the kingdom of God."

Liturgy Q&A

Introductory Rites

In the introductory rites, Christ joins the Church to himself and gathers her children to join their voices to his perfect hymn of praise. Thus, the liturgical assembly, "where two or three come together in Christ's name, and where he is found in their midst (Mt 18:20), is the 'first image that the Church gives of herself.'" Thus, an important function of these rites is to enable the gathered assembly to take on the form of a community, alert and ready to listen to the word and to celebrate the sacrament.

The introductory rites are led from the chair rather than from the altar or ambo unless otherwise prescribed in the liturgical books for specific times and circumstances.
