Homily

Dear parishioners,
I read this article on the internet: "Failure is a part of life. If you don't fail, you don't learn. If you do not learn, you will never change." Reading this content, I reflected it on myself. There has been many failures and setbacks in my life. Such failures and setbacks often become turning points in my life. I was ordination as a priest 33 years ago. I was assigned to my first parish as an assistant priest. Over there I contracted hemorrhagic fever and almost died. I was in the intensive care unit, and Bishop Kim Soo-hwan, came to visit me at the hospital. My mother never left my side from the moment I was admitted to the hospital until I was out of the hospital. I really thank her unwavering love, and because of it I was able to recover my health. Also at the crossroads of life and death, I was revived by God's great grace. Since then, I am living life of bonus. I am always thankful for this and always feel grateful to God.

30 years ago, one of the bishops asked me to serve in the United States. So for preparation I studied English and read books. Also I have to say good bye to many small groups and have to stay out late at night for farewell gatherings about a month. Then the bishop called me, told me somehow he found out about my late-night drinking. The bishop canceled my mission to United States. I felt ashamed, embarrassed, and angry. I also harbored resentment towards the person who informed the bishop about my drinking. Looking back, bishop's stern reprimand was good medicine for me. I was able to exercise restraint in alcoholic drinking thereafter. Even if there are drinking events, I returned to the rectory before 10 p.m. sharp. This created a new habit for me. I go to bed early and waking up early in the morning. By doing so I found joy in early rising, praying, taking walks, and reading books all in the morning. Yes. It's difficult to change one's attitude and habit. However by my experience I learned that if I adopt one habit, then that habit can change me in a better way.

25 years ago, the bishop asked about my opinion on whether I would go to Jeokseong parish and I told the bishop that I would obey and go. The bishop held my hand firmly and encouraged me to do well as a parish priest. Jeokseong parish had a large land mass but very few parishioners since it was a small parish. Daily mass attendance is less than 10, and weekend masses attended by fewer than 100. Naturally Sunday offerings were not much. I spent three years there. Three years out of thirty-three years are not very long time. But during those three years I was really happy there. I spend my time by teaching Taekwondo to children, sold agricultural products grown by the parishioners, and organized program for city students to experience rural activities, provided a transportation service for those who couldn't come to the church because they didn't have a car. Four vans went all over the parish to pick up parishioners from their homes. In summer I went camps to the beach with all the parishioners and was happy and content. Initially, I envied my classmates in large parishes in Seoul, but later I found so much happiness being in a place where air was clean and be with nature. I had high blood pressure at that time, but it improved while I was stationed at Jeokseong parish I am grateful to bishop who solved my health problem without knowing my condition.

In today's Gospel, Jesus performs the 'Cleansing of the Temple.' The temple may be a visible building, but the true temple is our invisible hearts. We are believers who receive baptism and our Lord's body, Eucharist. Yes. Our hearts are where the Lord resides. Therefore, we must purify our hearts every day. Lent is a grace-filled time for repentance, purifying of our hearts.
