오늘의 전례

[First Reading] Jeremiah 31:31-34

[Responsorial Psalm] Psalm 51:3-4, 12-13, 14-15

R. (12a) Create a clean heart in me, O God.

[Second Reading] Hebrews 5:7-9

[Alleluia]

Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ, the way, the truth, and the life.

Whoever serves me must follow me, says the Lord;
and where I am, there also will my servant be.

Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ, the way, the truth, and the life.

[Gospel] John 12:20-33

[Communion Antiphon]

Amen, Amen I say to you: Unless a grain of wheat falls to the ground and dies, it remains a single grain. But if it dies, it bears much fruit.

Homily

5th Sunday of Lent
Dear parishioners,
The first Korean athlete to be recognized and left a significant mark overseas as a soccer player was Cha Bum-kun. He was known as 'Cha Boom' and he played and recognized in European field. His strong physical and penetrating ability were his trade mark. Many Korean players are now active in European soccer teams, a field in which Cha Bum-kun paved the way. There was Park Ji-sung, and now we have Son Heung -min, Kim Young-jae, and Lee Kang-in. I may not know all their names, but many more players are making their mark in European soccer. I may not know much about soccer, but I know this much because their skills are recognized all over the world.

As a baseball player, Park Chan-ho is recognized in the United States, the home of baseball. Thanks to Park Chan-ho I watched Major League Baseball in mid-1990s. I was proud to see him strike out many American batters with his fast pitches. Many Korean players are now active in the United States baseball field, thanks to the seeds planted by Park Chan-ho. Kim Byung-Hyun led his team to victory in the Major League as a pitcher. There were also Choo Shin-soo and Choi Hee-seop. Currently four players are active in the Major League. I may not know much about baseball, but I know at least their skills are recognized in the United States.

In 1997, Korea went through sever IMF crisis. It was a time when the entire nation was struggling with frustration and despair. At that time Korean woman golfer Park Se-ri showed an impressive scene and won the championship at LPGA golf tournament in the United States, Park Se-ri took off her socks and shoes to stepped into a pond to hit a ball that had just fallen into water. With a powerful swing, she hit the ball and won the championship. I was deeply moved to watch that scene. Later there was a Korean public service advertisement showing Park Se-ri's barefoot determination against the backdrop of the song 'Evergreen' and our nation felt comfort and hope. Park Se-ri went on to win many more championships and was able to enter the Hall of Fame. The seeds planted by Park Se-ri have raised many 'Park Se-ri kids.' There was a time when more than half of the golf tournaments were won by Korean female golfers. Korean women's golf rightfully became the center of world golf. Choi Na-yeon, Ryu So-yeon, Lydia Ko, and Park In-bee were active. Many players are still active in the LPGA. I may not know much about golf, but I know this much because their skills are recognized even in the LPGA. Everything may have been unfamiliar and challenging for these players to establish themselves in foreign lands. But because they shed tears and planted seeds, they were able to reap joyous harvests.

I was serving as the vocational director of Seoul Archdiocese and during that time, whenever I met students who were entering the seminary, I ask them this question: "Why do you decide to enter the seminary?" I was curious and thought there must be a reason worthy of God's calling. For answer many students mentioned Father Lee Tae-seok. They say they watched the documentary about this missionary "Don't Cry Tonze" when they were young. Watching that video, they naturally thought, "I want to be a priest like him." Father Lee Tae-Seok was a doctor and then became a Salesian missionary priest and sent out to Sudan, Africa. He nurtured dreams and hopes of Tonze's children through music. He visited leprosy patients and made shoes tailored to their distorted feet. Jesus said, "Unless a kernel of wheat falls to the ground and dies, it remains only a single seed. But if it dies, it produces many seeds." After giving his all, unfortunately, Father Lee passed away in his mid-40s and returned to God. But his fervent life and passion bore fruits. More than 40 Tonze's students became doctors fulfilling Father Lee's dreams. By spreading love like Father Lee they become Fr. Lee.

It is meaningful to blossom and show a beautiful appearance like a flower. But it is even more precious to become a single seed and decay in the dark soil. Faith is about becoming a seed rather than a flower. I would like to share a poem that I love with you.

"Joy is always temporary, and when you turn around,
the difficult path of life stretches out again.
When life approaches with gloom and you cannot help but feel melancholy.
When you feel like standing in the corner,
pushed away from the center of the world, feeling as feeble as a leaf fluttering in the wind .
But precisely in those moments, I hope even more.
If those things become the fertilizer of my life and enable me to cultivate a splendid flower garden.
If I can produce only rich fruits later, isn't there a reason not to be sad now?"

Some became seeds for St. Andrew Kim of Dallas church. Because of their sweat and hard work we can praise God and form a community of fellowship in this beautiful church. Even now, some people are becoming seeds. Yes, the world is beautiful just because there are beautiful people in it.
