Homily

Thirteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time (Papal Sunday)

Dear parishioners, greetings!
 Today is the Thirteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time and Papal Sunday. As it is the last Sunday of June, we especially dedicate this day to praying for the Pope, who tirelessly prays and works for the global Church. Let us pray that he may have authority without being authoritarian, reign over the faithful with love, and govern with a heart of service.
 I was ordained as a priest in 1991. During every Mass, there is a section in the Mass where we pray for 'our Pope and our Bishop,' asking for God's mercy. Over the past 33 years, I have witnessed three Popes: Saint John Paul II, Benedict XVI, and Francis. I have also prayed for four bishops: Cardinal Stephen Kim Sou-hwan, Cardinal Nicholas Cheong Jin-suk, Cardinal Andrew Yeom Soo-Jung, and Bishop Peter Chung Soon-take. Here in the Diocese of Dallas, we pray for our Bishops Burns and Kelly, seeking God's mercy for them. Praying for the Pope and the Bishops at every Mass emphasizes the heavy and challenging nature of their duties, as their decisions greatly impact both the Church and the world.

Jesus proclaimed the Kingdom of God and brought good news. He did not lead us towards material wealth or gains. He did not urge us to seek success, power, or fame. Instead, Jesus showed us a new path. Those who follow this path will gain eternal life. It is a path of love, like the shepherd who searches for the lost sheep and embraces everyone. It is a path of forgiveness, forgiving seventy times seven times. It is a path of mercy, welcoming back the prodigal son. It is a path of humility, where one comes to serve despite being worthy of service. It is a path of sacrifice, as there is no greater love than to lay down one's life for friends. It is a path of sharing, feeding 5000 with two fish and five loaves. It is a path of faith, offering peace to the disciples who betrayed Him. It is a path of resurrection, rising from the cross. It is a path of the Holy Spirit, moving from despair to hope, from fear to courage. The early Church demonstrated the Kingdom of God and the good news through their lives. In their community, no one was poor or suffering; they shared everything they had.

Today is Papal Sunday, dedicated to praying for the Pope. Pope Francis does not speak of the path of material wealth and capital. He speaks of the path of love and mercy that Jesus walked, the path of sharing and sacrifice. The Pope has said there is no neutrality in the face of suffering and that the Church must go out into the world even if it gets wounded. His first official visit was to Lampedusa, where refugees stayed, calling for solidarity with their pain and suffering. Many European countries responded to the Pope's call, and refugees in Lampedusa found new homes. He urged us to help those suffering and provided a place for the homeless to rest at the Vatican, even setting up showers. A believer follows the path the Lord walked. Even though the path may be long and arduous, it leads to eternal life.

Today, the 26th Pastoral Council of our parish concludes, and the new 27th Pastoral Council begins tomorrow. I extend my deepest gratitude to the President and members of the 26th Pastoral Council members for their leadership, especially during the difficult times of the pandemic. I believe that history will be repeated and our Church will continue from the first Pope, Apostle Peter, to the 266th Pope, Francis. St. Andrew Kim Parish in Dallas began in 1977 and now reaches the 27th Pastoral Council. May the newly inaugurated 27th Pastoral Council dedicate itself to our parish community through God's mercy. Please pray for the newly inaugurated 27th Pastoral Council. "Indeed, God created man to be immortal and made him in the image of His nature. But by the envy of the devil, death entered the world, and those who belonged to his company experienced it. Though He was rich, for your sake He became poor, so that by His poverty you might become rich. Whoever gathered much had nothing left over, and whoever gathered little did not lack."

Pastor Je Hyoung Cho
