Homily

6th Sunday of Easter

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ,
Peace be with you!
When we look at the world today, it truly amazes us. We hear news every day about the rapid development of artificial intelligence. Just a few years ago, we were surprised that AI could speak like a human. But now, AI can reason, solve complex problems, and even lead organizations. What kind of world will unfold when this AI is combined with humanoid robots that resemble humans? Experts say that by as early as 2030 or by the mid-2040s at the latest, we will see a world where robots take care of patients in hospitals, teach children in schools, and keep lonely elderly people company at home. It is a future that is both astonishing and wondrous to imagine.

As we celebrate the 6th Sunday of Easter, I would like to reflect on the words of the Lord throughout this Easter season. The theme of the Easter Vigil is the "empty tomb." Jesus was no longer in the tomb. Mary Magdalene, who loved Jesus dearly, encountered the Risen Lord. Jesus revealed Himself to her and said, "Do not be afraid. Go and tell my brothers to go to Galilee. There they will see me." Galilee is the place where the Lord preached the Gospel. It is where He called His disciples. It is where He proclaimed the Kingdom of God. The place where we experience the joy of the Gost here, right now is our Galilee. The theme of the 2nd Sunday of Easter is "peace and forgiveness." The Risen Jesus appeared to His disciples who were trembling in fear. He greeted them with peace and gave them the Holy Spirit. The Resurrection is not about anger or revenge; it is the beginning of peace and forgiveness. The Lord's Resurrection is a mystery of faith. That is why we profess, "When we eat this Bread and drink this Cup, we proclaim your death, O Lord, until you come again."

The theme of the 3rd Sunday of Easter is "love." The Risen Jesus asked Peter three times, "Simon, son of John, do you love me?" When Peter replied, "Yes, Lord, you know that I love you," Jesus responded three times, "Feed my sheep." Every time I hear this, my heart is moved. Jesus sees love not merely as emotion but as responsibility. "If you love someone, care for them." That is the message the Risen Lord gives us today. The theme of the 4th Sunday is "the Good Shepherd." The Good Shepherd knows the voice of His sheep, and the sheep know their Shepherd's voice. As people of faith, we must listen well to the voice of God. And to hear God's voice, we must first listen attentively to the voices of our family members. We must listen to our neighbors. We must listen to the poor and the sick. To feed the hungry, to relieve the burdens of the oppressed, and to heal the sick—these are the will of God.

The theme of the 5th Sunday is "Christ, the Way, the Truth, and the Life." The way is not a highway. It is the path of sacrifice, walking ten miles when a friend asks for one. It is the path that reveals the greater glory of God. It is the path on which God's will is fulfilled. Life is not just for oneself. It does not disregard the life of others. All life is a gift from God. Truth is love that lays down one's life for a friend. The truth of Jesus is a hope that does not fade even in pain and despair. The truth of Jesus is not of this world. It is the faith that overcomes death and leads to eternal life through the Resurrection.

The theme of the 6th Sunday is "the life of a believer." Faith does not pursue the easy or fast path. Sometimes, it is a thorny path, a path of the Cross, a path of trials and suffering. Jesus walked this path. The apostles walked it. The saints walked it. The Korean poet Do Jong-hwan, in his poem "A Flower That Blossoms While Shaking," wrote, "Is there any flower that blooms without shaking? Is there any flower that blooms without getting wet from the rain?" Just like the small flowers blooming by the roadside, our lives are often shaken by the winds of conflict, temptation, and greed. Our lives are often soaked by the rains of worry, anxiety, frustration, and pain. Yet, if we walk the path given to us faithfully, the flowers of joy and love will bloom. The Risen Lord calls us to go against the flow of this world.

"Whoever loves me will keep my word. Whoever does not love me does not keep my words. While I am still with you, I have spoken these things to you. But the Advocate, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, will teach you everything and remind you of all that I told you."
